FCC Robocall Mitigation Database

To Whom It May Concern,

We have no longer pursued being a VOIP provider embedded into our healthcare software for sale. We use our account for the normal business operations of our own company and neither resell our software, nor resell any VOIP services. Since we are no longer considered a gateway provider, non-gateway intermediate provider, and voice service provider we will not need to complete the requirements of the robocall mitigation database inclusion. Please remove our application, and anything else necessary for us to not be considered one of the above mentioned providers.

We will complete the requirements at the time when we proceed to be considered one of the above mentioned provider types. Please advise if anything else is required to avoid any disruption in our regular business operations.

Best regards,

Franklin Moses
