

Our mass notification system (voice calls) is designed for specific customers and they need to be authenticated to login to our system before they can send mass voice calls. Also we have server hardening to protect from cyber-attacks. We also limit number of ports that are open on our server to prevent any illegal access to our server.

Director
Cyril Rayan
Resilience Inc.