AW Technology Services, LLC operates solely as a reseller and does not own, control, or manage network infrastructure capable of implementing STIR/SHAKEN authentication. As a result, AW Technology Services, LLC is not required to implement STIR/SHAKEN in the IP portions of its network.

Reason STIR/SHAKEN Is Not Implemented

AW Technology Services, LLC does not originate calls directly and does not have access to the network elements necessary to sign calls. Call authentication and STIR/SHAKEN compliance are performed by its upstream voice service provider(s).

Alternative Compliance Measures

AW Technology Services, LLC relies on its upstream voice service provider, Altigen Communications, Inc., and/or their own upstream voice service provider(s) to perform STIR/SHAKEN call authentication and to comply with applicable FCC robocall mitigation rules. AW Technology Services, LLC cooperates fully with its upstream provider and takes reasonable steps to prevent the origination of illegal robocalls.

Role in the Call Chain

AW Technology Services, LLC acts solely as a reseller in the call chain and does not originate, authenticate, or sign voice traffic.

Operating Company Number (OCN)

AW Technology Services, LLC does not have and is not required to have an Operating Company Number due to its reseller-only status.

Robocall Mitigation and Traceback Cooperation

AW Technology Services, LLC maintains Know Your Customer procedures and cooperates with its upstream provider, and they with their upstream provider(s) to monitor traffic, investigate suspicious activity, respond to traceback requests, and suspend or terminate service when appropriate. AW Technology Services, LLC commits to responding to traceback requests within a commercially reasonable period of time, with a target of 24 hours.

Certification

I certify under penalty of perjury that the foregoing statements are true and correct and accurately reflect the operations and compliance posture of AW Technology Services, LLC.
