

Robocall Mitigation Program Description

Company: NexGen Communications

Role: Telecommunications Reseller / Technology Advisor

NexGen Communications provides telecommunications advisory and resale services to business customers. NexGen does not originate voice traffic, operate a voice network, or assign telephone numbers to end users. Voice services sold by NexGen are provisioned and delivered by underlying licensed telecommunications carriers. These carriers are responsible for call origination, routing, numbering resources, and implementation of STIR/SHAKEN caller ID authentication in compliance with FCC requirements. NexGen Communications relies on its upstream carrier partners for robocall mitigation and STIR/SHAKEN compliance. The company performs reasonable customer due diligence and will cooperate with underlying providers and appropriate authorities if any suspected illegal robocalling activity is identified.
